Aromatherapy: The Art and Science of Healing

Aromatherapy promotes holistic healing through the use of essential oils and naturally extracted aromatic essences to balance and maintain wellness of mind, body, and spirit. At Austin Community College, our students receive a thorough education in important aromatherapy disciplines including aromatic chemistry, materia aromatica, aroma pharmacology, contraindications, drug interactions, and aroma energetics. This natural and non-invasive therapeutic method is ideal for students eager to explore the body’s ability to balance and maintain equilibrium through the use of naturally occurring, essential oils.
